Alcohol and drug abuse are major issues on college campuses nation-wide. It is important that students be aware of the consequences associated with substance abuse and take the necessary steps to prevent it. In response to this problem, Wayne State Undergraduate Research is offering two grants to the strongest undergraduate research proposals addressing the issue of alcohol/drug abuse and prevention during the college experience.

Funding will be provided to the winning proposals, up to $2,300 each.

Preference will be given to certain proposals resulting in an on-going project for addressing alcohol/drug abuse, promising to produce measurable results, and proposing to involve the largest number of students.

To apply for the grant, return the attached submission form to the Honors program office (2100 Undergraduate Library) and return it no later than February 14, 2005. The selection committee will notify the awarded students by February 21. The project is to be completed and submitted no later than August 16, 2005.
